“African American Golfers Hall of Fame to Honor Helen Wilkes, F. Malcolm Cunningham, Sr., Jack & Barbara Nicklaus during its 3rd Annual Celebration”

Four giants to be honored during the “3rd Annual African American Golfers Hall of Fame (AAGHOF) Celebration” black tie reception & awards dinner at the Palm Beach Gardens Marriott, Palm Beach Gardens, FL on May 28, 2007. Former Mayor of West Palm Beach, Helen Wilkes was the first elected female Mayor of the city and always had a helping hand for the needy for more than 50 years. F. Malcolm Cunningham, Sr.* was truly a pioneer. He was the first Black person elected to public office in the South since Reconstruction and the first to serve as Riviera Beach City Attorney. Barbara & Jack W. Nicklaus will receive the “2007 AAGHOF Humanitarian Award” for their “dedication to providing health care and hospital facilities for children and continuing to grow the game of golf for our youth.”

Legendary Golfer Gary Player is the keynote speaker for the awards dinner. At a time when most countries were shunning South Africa, Player brought African American athletes like Lee Elder (who will be inducted in this class), first African American to play in the Masters Tournament, to his country to try to make people understand that there should be equality on and off the playing field.

Inner City Youth Golfers', Inc. (ICYG), a tax-exempt charitable organization (Tax ID # 65-0978868) established the AAGHOF annual event in order to give the “African-American Legends of Golf an opportunity to be recognized for their contributions to the sport, to continue being role models to our youth, to network with their peers, to interact and share their own stories about golf “then and now.” This celebratory event has institutionalized the true recognition of our historic involvement in “the growth of the game of golf” since the 1800's. The African-American golfing community is at no loss for stories documenting its struggles, tragedies and ultimate triumphs. Little has been done however to recognize the accomplishments of those who really paved the way for today's minority golfers.

The specific purpose of the AAGHOF is to honor the legacy and achievements of African Americans in the game of golf. The specific goals are to establish a place where the rich, colorful and proud history of African Americans in golf is specifically showcased and displayed for the world to see; to work diligently to find, review, and honor those African Americans who have made a lasting and positive contribution to golf and to their communities; to provide an interactive educational learning experience for all young and senior golfers; to acquire and assemble the most comprehensive collection of African American golf memorabilia in the world and to purchase land and build a permanent museum for all to enjoy for generations to come.

Other AAGHOF 2007 Class members: Joseph M. Bartholemew, New Orleans, LA; Agatha M. Delancy, Nassau, Bahamas; Lee Elder, Pompano, FL; Charlie Owens, Tampa, FL; Renee Powell, East Canton, Ohio and John Roux, New Orleans, LA. The Board of Governors also established a prestigious plaque to honor those legendary African Americans who are ninety (90) years or older who have “lived a life of golf.” The inaugural Legacy Award recipients are Lavelle “Reds” Anderson, Tim Irving and Dave Stroman. These stately gentlemen represent more than “two hundred and seventy eight years of knowledge about golf.” Other 2007 awardees are: Publisher of the Year, Calvin H. Sinnette, M.D.; Golf Administrator of the Year, Dennis C. Morgan, President, Midwest Golf Association and Founders Awards to Robert Brock, George H.
